Company Overview

- Fractal Analytics Ltd is a founder-led, asset-light global enterprise AI company founded in 2000 with a vision to power human decisions across enterprises, delivering end-to-end Data, Analytics and AI (DAAI) solutions across industries through advanced capabilities in Generative AI, Computer Vision and Natural Language Processing.
- The company offers an end-to-end AI portfolio across two segments: Fractal.ai, which delivers enterprise AI services and platforms such as Cogentiq for business insights, campaign intelligence and customer experience solutions, and Fractal Alpha, which comprises autonomous AI ventures including Asper.ai for revenue growth management, Qure.ai for healthcare diagnostics, and Analytics Vidhya for AI education.
- It serves a diversified global client base of 122 Must Win Clients (MWCs), including Fortune 500 enterprises such as Citi, Costco, Franklin Templeton, Mars, Mondelez, Nationwide, Nestlé, and Philips, with strong vertical exposure across Consumer Goods & Retail, Technology, Media and Telecom, Healthcare & Life Sciences, and BFSI, while generating a highly global revenue mix with 92.4% of revenues from international clients as of H1FY26.
- Fractal is widely recognized as a Leader by Everest Group, supported by long-term client relationships averaging over 8 years, strong retention and client satisfaction reflected in an NPS of 76, strategic partnerships with Google Cloud and OpenAI, and capability-enhancing acquisitions such as Neal Analytics and Senseforth to strengthen its AI and cloud capabilities.

Sector Outlook

- India's AI and analytics sector remains underpenetrated, with the global third-party Data, Analytics and AI (DAAI) market valued at US$143 billion in FY25 and projected to grow at a 16.7% CAGR to US$310 billion by FY30, driven by accelerating enterprise adoption of Generative AI, agentic AI, and multimodal AI models across business functions.
- Key demand-driving industries include BFSI, Healthcare & Life Sciences, Consumer Goods & Retail, and Technology, Media & Telecom, which together account for nearly 80% of global AI and analytics spending, highlighting significant long-term growth opportunities for end-to-end enterprise AI solution providers.

Company Outlook

- Fractal has achieved significant growth, with revenue of ₹1,559cr in H1 FY26 reflecting 19.9% YoY increase and a 18% CAGR from FY23-25, driven by investments in R&D (₹956 million in H1 FY26, 6.1% of revenue), 28 registered patents, and integrations of AI, engineering, and design with domain expertise, while maintaining an Adjusted EBITDA margin of 15% and PAT margin of 4.5% as of H1 FY26.

- At the upper price band of ₹900, Fractal Analytics is valued at a rich post-issue P/E multiple of 67.4x, indicating aggressive pricing backed by strong growth expectations in enterprise AI, a premium Fortune 500 client base, and long industry tailwinds; however, given the high valuation, evolving profitability profile, and execution risks in a rapidly changing AI landscape, we adopt a “Neutral” stance and will closely track the company’s performance in the coming quarters before taking a clearer investment view.

Key Risks

- Fractal faces risks related to client concentration and retention, high exposure to international markets and currency fluctuations, intense competition and rapid technological change in the AI and analytics space, and risk of employee attrition, which could impact growth and profitability.
